Purpose of Report

Executive Decision Legislative Requirement

Summary

The Western Australian Local Government Association (WALGA) is seeking Council-endorsed feedback from local governments to inform a sector-wide response to anticipated State Government proposals relating to local government electoral reform.

Council is requested to consider and endorse the attached submission outlining the Shire of Narembeen's position on proposed electoral reform matters, including council spill provisions, voting systems, councillor terms, and voting methods.

Background

WALGA has advised that the State Government is considering potential reforms to the Local Government electoral framework. As part of this process, WALGA is gathering feedback from local governments across Western Australia to develop a coordinated sector-wide response.

The anticipated reform areas may include matters such as:

- the potential introduction of full council spill provisions
- voting systems used in local government elections
- councillor term structures
- methods of voting (postal and in-person)
- processes for internal council elections.

Given the potential implications for governance and representation within rural and regional local governments, WALGA has requested that councils provide endorsed feedback to inform its advocacy on behalf of the sector.

Comment

As a small rural local government, the Shire of Narembeen considers stability, continuity of leadership and retention of local knowledge to be critical to effective governance.

The current electoral structure, whereby councillors serve four-year terms with half of Council elected every two years, provides an appropriate balance between democratic renewal and continuity of governance.

The Shire's proposed submission to WALGA supports:

- retaining the current staggered election model (half council elections every two years)
- retaining four-year councillor terms
- retaining both postal and in-person voting options to ensure accessibility for rural electors
- retaining first-past-the-post voting for internal council elections
- recognising first-past-the-post voting as the preferred voting method for rural councils.

The submission also notes that if preferential voting remains the State's preferred voting system, the proportional representation component should be removed to maintain simplicity and transparency in the electoral process.

The attached submission reflects the governance realities of small rural councils and seeks to ensure that any reforms support stable and effective local government representation in regional communities.

Consultation

WALGA

Statutory Implications

The consultation relates to potential amendments to the Local Government Act 1995 (WA) and associated electoral regulations.

At this stage, Council is only being asked to provide feedback to WALGA to inform sector advocacy. No legislative changes have been enacted.

Risk Implications

For Narembeen, proposed WA local government electoral reforms could create risks mainly due to the Shire's small council size and limited candidate pool. Moving to full-spill elections may result in many councillors being replaced at once, reducing governance continuity and local knowledge. With only seven councillors, this could increase workloads, make it harder to recruit experienced representatives, and potentially raise election administration costs. Overall, the reforms could weaken stability and representation capacity in a small rural council.

Financial Implications

There are no direct financial implications associated with providing feedback to WALGA.

However, future legislative changes to the electoral system could potentially have administrative or operational cost implications for local governments.

Officers Recommendation – Item 13.1

That Council:

1. Endorse the Shire of Narembeen's submission to WALGA regarding proposed local government electoral reforms, as attached; and
2. Authorise the submission to be provided to the Western Australian Local Government Association (WALGA) to inform the sector-wide response to anticipated State Government electoral reform proposals.

13.2 Renewable Energy Planning Code and Planning Regulations Amendments – Consultation (WALGA)

Purpose of Report

- Executive Decision Legislative Requirement

Summary

The Western Australian Local Government Association (WALGA) has requested feedback from member local governments to inform its advocacy position regarding the State Government's proposed Renewable Energy Planning Code, Guidelines and associated planning regulation amendments.

The draft framework, prepared by the Western Australian Planning Commission under the Planning and Development Act 2005, seeks to establish a consistent statewide planning framework for renewable energy infrastructure including wind farms, solar facilities and battery storage systems.

Council is requested to consider endorsing the Shire of Narembeen submission prepared for WALGA outlining concerns regarding agricultural land protection, infrastructure impacts and the importance of maintaining meaningful local government involvement in development assessment.

Background

The Western Australian Planning Commission (WAPC) has released a Draft Renewable Energy Planning Code and Guidelines for public consultation as part of broader planning reforms supporting the State's transition to renewable energy.

The proposed Code introduces a statewide development assessment framework for renewable energy infrastructure including:

- Wind energy facilities
- Solar farms
- Battery energy storage systems
- Associated transmission infrastructure.

The Code establishes planning elements addressing matters such as:

- Safety
- Noise
- Shadow flicker
- Landscape impacts
- Protection of the natural environment
- Infrastructure considerations
- Decommissioning and rehabilitation

WALGA is currently preparing an advocacy position on behalf of local governments and has invited submissions from member councils to ensure regional issues and local government perspectives are represented.

Given the increasing interest in renewable energy developments within agricultural regions of Western Australia, it is important that rural local governments provide input into the development of the planning framework.

Comment

The Shire of Narembeen has prepared a submission to WALGA outlining several key planning considerations relevant to agricultural local government areas.

Large-scale renewable energy developments are increasingly being proposed within productive farming landscapes across regional Western Australia. While renewable energy development presents economic opportunities, it also raises potential land use conflicts and infrastructure impacts.

The submission highlights the importance of ensuring that planning frameworks:

- Protect productive agricultural land and natural resources
- Appropriately manage land use conflicts between renewable energy infrastructure and agricultural activities
- Recognise the role of local government in planning and development assessment
- Consider impacts on local road networks and infrastructure
- Ensure community concerns and expectations are adequately represented in planning decisions.

Local governments possess detailed knowledge of local land capability, environmental characteristics, infrastructure capacity and community expectations. Maintaining meaningful local government involvement in the assessment of renewable energy proposals is therefore considered essential.

The submission provided to WALGA reflects these considerations and seeks to ensure that renewable energy development occurs in a manner that balances economic development with the long-term protection of agricultural productivity and regional communities.

Council endorsement of the submission will assist WALGA in representing regional local government interests in discussions with the State Government regarding the proposed planning reforms.

Consultation

RoeROC Council

Statutory Implications

The proposed Renewable Energy Planning Code is being prepared under Part 3A of the Planning and Development Act 2005 and the Planning and Development (Planning Codes) Regulations 2024. The Code, once finalised, will form part of the State's planning framework and may influence development assessment processes for renewable energy infrastructure across Western Australia.

There are no direct statutory implications arising from Council endorsing the submission.

Policy Implications

The proposed Renewable Energy Planning Code and associated planning framework may influence the way renewable energy developments are assessed across Western Australia, including within the Shire of Narembeen.

While the endorsement of the submission does not amend any existing Shire policies, the matter relates to several broader planning policy considerations including:

- Local Planning Scheme provisions relating to land use and development within rural zones;
- State Planning Policies under the Western Australian planning framework;
- Protection of productive agricultural land and rural land use planning principles; and
- Future development of local planning policies or guidelines relating to renewable energy infrastructure.

The proposed State planning framework may reduce or modify the role of local governments in assessing renewable energy developments, depending on final legislative arrangements.

Providing feedback through WALGA ensures that local government perspectives are considered in the development of the State planning framework and supports the protection of local planning interests.

At this stage, the endorsement of the submission does not require any amendment to existing Shire policies.

Strategic Implications

Strategic Community Plan

Strategic Priority:	4. Civic Leadership
Objective:	Well governed and efficiently managed Local Government
Strategy:	4.1 Forward planning and implementation of plans to achieve strategic priorities

Asset Management Plan

Renewable energy developments may have implications for local government infrastructure, particularly local road networks used for the transport of large construction components such as wind turbine blades and towers.

Council's submission highlights the importance of ensuring infrastructure impacts are appropriately assessed and managed as part of the planning framework.

No direct asset management implications arise from the endorsement of the submission.

Long Term Financial Plan

There are no direct financial implications associated with endorsing the submission.

Future renewable energy developments may have financial implications relating to infrastructure upgrades, road maintenance or developer contributions; however these matters would be considered as part of individual development proposals.

Risk Implications

There are concerns regarding land use compatibility, agricultural land protection and infrastructure impacts are not adequately addressed within the planning framework, there may be risks including:

- Increased land use conflicts within agricultural areas
- Infrastructure impacts on local government road networks
- Reduced community confidence in planning decision-making processes

Summary

This item presents the Risk Dashboard – quarterly monitoring report for February 2026 to Council for consideration and receipt.

Background

The Risk Management Framework for the Shire of Narembeen sets out the approach to the identification, assessment, management, reporting and monitoring of risks. The objective is to ensure that all areas of the Shire adopt the outlined procedures to ensure:

- strong corporate governance;
- compliance with relevant legislation, regulations and internal policies;
- integrated Planning and Reporting requirements are met; and
- uncertainty and its effects on objectives are understood.

The Shire has adopted a ‘Three Lines of Defence’ model for the management of risk. This model ensures roles, responsibilities, and accountabilities for decision making are structured to demonstrate effective governance and assurance. By operating within the approved risk appetite and framework, the council, management, and community will have assurance that risks are managed effectively to support the delivery of the strategic, corporate, and operational plans.

The Shire qualified its risk appetite through the development of the Shire’s Risk Assessment and Acceptance Criteria.

There is a requirement to assess and manager the risk profiles on an ongoing basis to monitor risks and treatments.

Comment

The quarterly review of risk profiles assessed emerging risks, control effectiveness and key indicator performance. Assigned actions are reflective of current risks and control environment.

The following key controls have been included to identified risk themes:

- Inadequate Asset Sustainability Practices
 - Road Strategy
 - Transport Service Level and Road Hierarchy Plan

There is no risk themes are listed on the Risk Register as the overall control rating was 'inadequate'.

Section 2.7 Role of council

- (1) The council —
 - (a) governs the local government's affairs; and
 - (b) is responsible for the performance of the local government's functions.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the council is to —
 - (a) oversee the allocation of the local government's finances and resources; and
 - (b) determine the local government's policies.

[Section 2.7 amended: No. 17 of 2009 s. 4.]

Section 5.41 Functions of CEO

The CEO's functions are to —

- a) advise the council in relation to the functions of a local government under this Act and other written laws; and
- b) ensure that advice and information is available to the council so that informed decisions can be made; and
- c) cause council decisions to be implemented; and
- d) manage the day-to-day operations of the local government; and
- e) liaise with the mayor or president on the local government's affairs and the performance of the local government's functions; and
